DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-13 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousnesstype double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 of U.S. Patent No.

6656555. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the Patent and the instant application are directed to a business form with an integrated removable card. However, the Patent'555 fails to teach the presence of an integrated removable tab. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify Patent'555 by providing the die-cut portion forming the cut-out as the removable tab, prior to its removal from the base layer to form the cut-out portion.

3. Claims 1-20 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 18-35 of copending Application No. 10/395360. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the instant application and the application'360 are directed to a business form with an integrated removable card and a method of making the same. However, the application'360 fails to teach the presence of an integrated removable tab. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify application'360 by providing the die-cut portion forming the cut-out as the removable tab, prior to its removal from the base layer to form the cut-out portion.

Art Unit: 1772

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. Claims 1-20 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1-18 of copending Application No. 10/817459. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the instant application and the application'459 are directed to a business form with an integrated removable card. However, the application'459 fails to teach the presence of the additional backing layer and the removable tab. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify application'459 by providing a backing layer as shown in the drawings for additional support to the form and the die-cut forming cut-out portion would function as the removable tab prior to its removal from the base layer to form the cut-out portion

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1 and 14, as recited, are found to be indefinite and vague regarding the location of the tab with respect to the integrated removable portion. Are the tab and the integrated removable portions connected to each other?

Allowable Subject Matter

7. The prior art uncovered so far fails to teach that the base layer comprises a integrated tab, and a method making the tab, that is coextensive with the integrated removable portion and having a periphery defined by a second die-cut extending substantially through the base layer as recited in claims 1 and 14. For example, Casagrande (6403191) relates to the claimed form with integrated removable portion but fails to teach the presence of the integrated removable tab in the base layer defined by a second die-cut.
